Item 8.01. Other Events.

As previously disclosed, on July 7, 2025, Core Scientific, Inc., a Delaware corporation (“Core Scientific”), entered into an Agreement and Plan of Merger (as amended from time to time, the “Merger Agreement”) with CoreWeave, Inc., a Delaware corporation (“CoreWeave”) and Miami Merger Sub I, Inc., a Delaware corporation and a wholly owned subsidiary of CoreWeave (“Merger Sub”). Pursuant to the terms and conditions of the Merger Agreement, upon the closing, Merger Sub will merge with and into Core Scientific, with Core Scientific surviving as a wholly owned subsidiary of CoreWeave (the “Merger”).

In connection with the proposed Merger, CoreWeave filed with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission (the “SEC”) a registration statement on Form S-4 (the “Form S-4”) on August 20, 2025, which was amended on September 17, 2025 and September 25, 2025, that includes a proxy statement of Core Scientific that also constitutes a prospectus of CoreWeave. The Form S-4 was declared effective by the SEC on September 26, 2025. Also on September 26, 2025, Core Scientific filed a definitive proxy statement and CoreWeave filed a prospectus with the SEC with respect to the Merger (collectively, the “proxy statement/prospectus”). Core Scientific first mailed the proxy statement/prospectus to its stockholders on or about September 26, 2025.

Following the announcement of the Merger Agreement, (i) two purported stockholders of Core Scientific filed a lawsuit in the Connecticut Superior Court, Bridgeport Judicial District, Barcia et al. vs. Booth et al., Case No. FBT-CV-25-6151837S (the “Barcia Complaint”), (ii) one purported stockholder of Core Scientific filed a lawsuit in the New York Supreme Court, New York County, Kaufmann vs. Core Scientific, Inc. et al., Case No. 655996/2025 (the “Kaufmann Complaint”) and (iii) one purported stockholder of Core Scientific filed a lawsuit in the New York Supreme Court, New York County, Williams vs. Core Scientific, Inc. et al., Case No. 656010/2025 (the “Williams Complaint” and together with the Barcia Complaint and Kaufmann Complaint, the “Complaints”), in each case, challenging disclosures related to the Merger. Each of the Complaints remains pending as of the date of this Current Report on Form 8-K.

The Barcia Complaint names Core Scientific, members of the Core Scientific board of directors and CoreWeave as defendants. The Kaufmann Complaint and Williams Complaint each name Core Scientific and members of the Core Scientific board of directors as defendants. The Complaints allege that, among other things, the proxy statement/prospectus contains certain disclosure deficiencies and/or incomplete information regarding the Merger.

In addition to the Complaints, beginning on August 22, 2025, purported stockholders of Core Scientific sent demand letters (the “Demands,” and together with the Complaints, the “Matters”) alleging similar deficiencies regarding the disclosures made in the proxy statement/prospectus.

It is possible that additional, similar complaints may be filed, that the Matters described above may be amended, or that additional demands will be received by Core Scientific. If this occurs, Core Scientific does not intend to announce the filing or receipt of each additional, similar complaint or demand or any amended Matter unless required by law.

All of the defendants believe that the Matters are without merit. While Core Scientific and CoreWeave believe that the disclosures set forth in the proxy statement/prospectus comply fully with applicable law, to moot disclosure claims and to avoid nuisance, potential expense and delay, Core Scientific and CoreWeave have determined to voluntarily supplement the proxy statement/prospectus with the below disclosures. Nothing in the below supplemental disclosures shall be deemed an admission of the legal necessity or materiality under applicable law of any of the disclosures set forth herein or in the proxy statement/prospectus. To the contrary, Core Scientific and CoreWeave deny all allegations in the Matters that any additional disclosure was or is required.

The section of the proxy statement/prospectus entitled “The Merger—Opinions of Core Scientific’s Financial Advisors —Opinion of PJT Partners” is hereby supplemented as follows:

The second paragraph under the heading “Discounted Cash Flow Analysis-Core Scientific,” on page 210 of the proxy statement/prospectus, is amended and restated in its entirety to read as follows:

To calculate the estimated sum-of-the-parts present value of Core Scientific common stock using the discounted cash flow method, PJT Partners added (a) Core Scientific's projected after-tax unlevered free cash flows for the period June 30, 2025 through fiscal year end 2043E based on the Core Scientific Standalone Projections for the Colocation Contracted Business, which unlevered free cash flows were discounted to their present value using a range of selected discount rates, (b) Core Scientific's projected after-tax unlevered free cash flows for the period June 30, 2025 through fiscal year end 2032E based on the Core Scientific Standalone Projections for the Colocation Pipeline Business and ranges of "terminal values" of the Core Scientific Colocation Pipeline Business as of June 30, 2025, which amounts were discounted to their present value using a range of selected discount rates, (c) Core Scientific's projected after-tax unlevered free cash flows for the period June 30, 2025 through fiscal year end 2027E based on the Core Scientific Standalone Projections for the BTC Self Mining & Hosting Business, which unlevered free cash flows were discounted to their present value using a range of selected discount rates, and (d) Core Scientific's projected tax benefits for the period June 30, 2025 through fiscal year end 2028E based on the Core Scientific Standalone Projections, which unlevered free cash flows were discounted to their present value using a range of selected discount rates. The after-tax unlevered free cash flows were calculated by taking the tax-affected earnings before interest and tax expense, adding depreciation and amortization, subtracting capital expenditures and adjusting for changes in working capital and other cash flow items. The residual value of the Core Scientific Colocation Pipeline Business at the end of the projection period, or "terminal value," was estimated by applying the exit multiple range of 18.0x to 22.0x to Core Scientific's terminal year Adjusted EBITDA (earnings before interest, taxes, depreciation and amortization adjusted for company defined non-recurring and non-cash items, stock-based compensation, and one-time expenses, with revenue recognized when received) calculated on a forward-looking (NTM) basis, which Adjusted EBITDA amount was estimated by Core Scientific management to be $899 million. The ranges of after-tax discount rates of 10.00% to 12.00% (for the Colocation Contracted Business), 14.75% to 16.75% (for the Colocation Pipeline Business), 19.00% to 21.00% (for the BTC Self Mining & Hosting Business) and 10.00% to 12.00% (for the tax benefits, based on the Colocation Contracted Business weighted average cost of capital) were selected based on (i) PJT Partners' analysis of the weighted average cost of capital for each of the BTC Self Mining & Hosting Business, the Colocation Contracted Business and the Colocation Pipeline Business and (ii) PJT Partners' professional judgment and expertise. PJT Partners then calculated a range of implied equity values per share of Core Scientific common stock by subtracting Core Scientific's estimated net debt from the estimated enterprise value derived using the discounted cash flow method and dividing such amount by the fully diluted number of shares of Core Scientific common stock as of June 30, 2025. The following summarizes the results of these calculations:

The second full paragraph on page 211 of the proxy statement/prospectus is amended and restated in its entirety to read as follows:

To calculate the estimated enterprise value of CoreWeave using the discounted cash flow method, PJT Partners added (a) CoreWeave's projected after-tax unlevered free cash flows for the period June 30, 2025 through fiscal year end 2029E based on the CoreWeave Standalone Projections and ranges of "terminal values" of CoreWeave as of June 30, 2025, and discounted such amount to its present value using a range of selected discount rates, and (b) CoreWeave's projected tax benefits for the period June 30, 2025 through fiscal year end 2030E based on the CoreWeave Standalone Projections, which amounts were discounted to their present value using a range of selected discount rates. The after-tax unlevered free cash flows were calculated by taking the tax-affected earnings before interest and tax expense, adding depreciation and amortization, subtracting capital expenditures and adjusting for changes in working capital and other cash flow items. The residual value of CoreWeave at the end of the projection period, or "terminal value," was estimated by applying the exit multiple range of 20.0x to 30.0x to CoreWeave's terminal year Adjusted EBIT (earnings before interest and taxes, adjusted for company defined non-recurring and non-cash items, stock-based compensation, and one-time expenses) from the CoreWeave Standalone Projections. The range of after-tax discount rates of 10.00% to 12.00% was selected based on PJT Partners' analysis of the weighted average cost of capital of CoreWeave and PJT Partners' professional judgment and expertise. PJT Partners then calculated a range of implied equity values per share of CoreWeave common stock by subtracting CoreWeave's estimated net debt from the estimated enterprise value derived using the discounted cash flow method and dividing such amount by the fully diluted number of shares of CoreWeave common stock as of June 30, 2025.
